What's New In MultiMacro?

MultiMacro is a Macro Manager which creates macros from File formats:.txt,.txt-2,.txt-3,.txt-4,.txt-5,.txt-6,.txt-7,.txt-8,.txt-9,.txt-10. MultiMacro comes in handy. The program allows you to create macros based on multiple file formats and in case you want you can easily customize your macros by granting access to macros for a specific file format. MultiMacro comes with a Time scheduler which allows you to create macros with the help of a scheduler. MultiMacro allows you to create different types of macros such as; Shortcut key, Shortcut key combination, Executable file, Executable file with parameters, URL, FTP URL, Copy / Paste files, Delete Files, EXE downloader, Zip and more. A macro is a sequence of steps, repetitive processes, or functions. Whenever any situation occurs which needs to be taken care of automatically, it can be handled using a macro. Macro is a boon for routine work. They make complex tasks simple. These steps can be performed from windows, 3rd party applications or a scripting language. Macros can be triggered manually or timed from a time scheduler. It is possible to execute the macros without user interaction. There are three kinds of macros: Shortcuts, key combinations and automated processes. The automation process is used to trigger macros automatically from the start of the day to the end of the day. You can create these macros by copying them from the source and paste it to the destination file. Creating a shortcut menu consists of the following steps: 1. Right-click on the file and click on 'Create a shortcut' 2. Give a name to the shortcut and save the file with shortcut. 3. Right-click on the shortcut and click on 'Pin to start menu' 4. Now the shortcut will be displayed on the Start menu. Key Combination (Keyboard Shortcuts): When working on a large number of documents, mouse operations become difficult. If you wish to work on a large number of documents with a keyboard, all you have to do is take a copy of the macro and place it on the keyboard. The repeated keystrokes which are a part of the macro will automatically be executed. How to create keyboard shortcuts 1. Open any application on your desktop, for example, the Microsoft Word 2. Click on
