PvnSwitch PC/Windows

Publisher's description: Using the CapsLock key for switching keyboard layouts can be rather annoying. What this app actually does is assign a whole new function to the CapsLock key, namely to modify the keyboard layout. If more than two languages are installed on your system, then pressing the CapsLock key results in navigating through the list until the language is the right one. The program only runs in the system tray and it provides no visual interface. The only way to interact with the software is by using the right-click menu, although no settings are available there either, except for the 'Exit' option. Therefore, there are no complicated configuration options that you have to deal with. As long as the application is active in the system tray, the CapsLock key loses its standard function, allowing you to switch to the next keyboard layout with the push of a button. On the downside, having the CapsLock key assigned for this purpose can be an inconvenient to those who like to use it for changing the font from lower to uppercase and viceversa. Nevertheless, most users are accustomed to combining the 'Shift' key with a letter to obtain the same effect, thus the 'loss' is not so tragic. The only limit in using this feature is the number of keyboard layouts your system supports. If you are not satisfied with what the software is offering, it's possible to change its settings to fit your needs. This application can also be used to change the state of the CapsLock key - depending on whether it is locked or unlocked. Still, you should be aware that by using the program, you may end up modifying your keyboard layout. As a result, it is your responsibility to set the new keyboard layout as soon as possible. Change the caps lock state to blank or locked state. Change the state of the caps lock key to blank or locked state. Select a language for the next key press to be assigned to. Assign various commands to the CapsLock key. Change the behavior of the CapsLock key by assigning custom commands. Switch the keyboard to CapsLock or to another layout. Unlock the CapsLock key. Re-configure the capslock key to another key combination. Auto-lock the CapsLock key so that no one can modify the keyboard settings and break it. The default setting will make the CapsLock key blank, locked, 09e8f5149f
