of the computer. Most of us use keystrokes for common tasks like saving a file, opening a program, launching a browser and so on. KEYMACRO allows you to program macros which can be executed by only pressing one keystroke. The user interface shows a list of available macros. They can be executed as often as needed or grouped to create macros for specific tasks. For example, the Macro "Do" can be set up to perform different tasks, such as Save, Open and Print. Macros can be created as frequently repeating, or once-per-time or once-per-day macros. Keystrokes can be linked together using timing rules. All macros can be executed in a running session by clicking on "Run Selected Macros". Keystrokes can be saved for later execution and reused as often as needed. This allows you to create a new macro for a common task at a later time. Supported File Formats: • MP3 • WMA • OGG Vorbis
