Yet another typing tutor, and again, yet another typing tutor for your practice! It is a typing game. Use the buttons and keys on the keyboard panel to correct mistakes. Tap and release the left mouse button to select the next character from the list. Don't forget that your speed will be reduced if you have to correct too many mistakes. The game will play until you get all of the characters in the list correct, or until the time runs out. You have to tap on the letter that has to be typed before the blue ball appears. If you do it correctly, then the ball will go to the next letter and the ball will start to move again. If you make a mistake then the ball goes back to the start and the time will be counted from then on. The letters will appear in bold on the keyboard and there are three different size and color of the balls. A ball in red is a mistake, the blue ball is the one you have to tap and the white balls are the characters that you are still trying to type. When you reach the ball then it will be highlighted in blue. But you need to be aware that there is a limit of characters that you can correct in a row.
