encrypt Torrent Downloadion is a way to make information or data readable only for people who possess a secret that unlocks the encryption and allows the data to be decrypted. The power of this is that the data is neither readable by anyone else, nor can anyone else make sense of the data unless they possess the secret. The secret is the only thing that decrypts the encrypted data so that it can be read. Basic Encryption Encryption is a way of hiding information from others. To do this you have to take information, data or text and make it unreadable to others. To do this you need a secret. This secret is then used to encrypt the information, data or text so that others cannot read it. An example of this is when you take a document with your banking details and hide them inside a long text. Everyone who reads it can see the banking details, but no one else can do this. The secret is that the banking details are inside a long text and only by knowing the secret can you read them. Advanced Encryption Encryption is one way of hiding information from others. To do this you take the information you want to hide and encrypt it. The person who has the secret is allowed to decrypt the encrypted information. To do this, the secret is provided so that the person can decrypt the encryption. Once decrypted the information is no longer encrypted and can be read by anyone else. There are other ways of doing encryption such as: symmetric: Cipher Symmetric encryption uses the same key for encryption and decryption. For example: there is a key used to encode information or data. This key is also used to decode the information. If the key is the same for encryption and decryption then this is symmetric encryption. Public/Private Key Public/Private key encryption uses different keys to encrypt and decode the information. For example: a person encrypts an email using a public key and a person decrypts this email using the same public key. The public key is given to anyone and is used to encrypt information. The private key is given to only one person and is used to decrypt the information. Asymmetric: RSA Aes encryption uses an asymmetric RSA key. RSA is a public key and private key pair. This means that one key is used for encryption and the other is used for decryption. To do RSA encryption the data that is to be encrypted is XOR'ed with the key and
