Adobe Creative Suite. In addition to Photoshop, Adobe offers a variety of tools in a bundled package. The Creative Suite has been around since 2004 and it originally included Adobe Illustrator, Adobe Fireworks and Adobe Bridge. Today, it includes Photoshop, Adobe InDesign, Adobe Dreamweaver, Adobe PageMaker, Adobe GoLive, Adobe GoLive Express, Adobe Flash, Adobe Acrobat, Adobe Dreamweaver, Adobe Muse, Adobe Reader and Adobe Flash Builder. The Creative Suite is a subscription-based program that is offered by Adobe for a low monthly fee. It is similar to a computer game subscription service. If you choose to use the subscription, you get to keep the program and all of its newest features for a full year. However, the subscription renews every year so you can expect to pay $80 per month in addition to the yearly fee. The prices of the applications vary, but if you're a graphic designer and you create multiple projects a month, a bundle of programs in Photoshop, Fireworks, InDesign and Illustrator can be a good option. What is Photoshop? Photoshop is the most popular graphics and photo editing program. It was originally called Photoshop 1.0 and was released in May of 1990. Photoshop 1.0 was one of the first major programs to use layers, a method that enables you to combine multiple images, layers and transparency. It also was the first major release to enable the user to work in grayscale images. After Photoshop 1.0, Adobe released Photoshop 2.0 in December of 1992. The program allowed users to import and export file formats such as EPS, TIFF, CGM, BMP, GIF and JPG. In June of 1993, Photoshop 3.0 came out, which included a variety of improvements such as the ability to crop and resize images. The program was expanded to three new applications and a host of new tools. Photoshop 3.0 also allowed the user to use the quick selection tool to edit the shape, color and size of the selected content. The program also made it easier to create and place an object as well as share images with others via E-mail. Photoshop 3.5 was released in February of 1994, and it included support for raster and vector graphics, the ability to enhance color details, full resizing, the ability to manipulate brush strokes and a zooming tool. In 1997, Adobe

-- nor should we be so sensitive to the words our elected officials use. Christians, however, have a responsibility to speak out against wrongs that have been done in the name of Christ. And if we are not going to do this, then we have no right to criticize those who do. To speak out against a culture of cover-up and stonewalling, we have to speak out against it. So while I can understand the views of some on this subject, I can no longer accept the excuse of the left on this matter. It is time for those who believe in Christian values to speak out against the less than admirable behavior of both parties. Both parties are at fault. Both parties have acted in ways that are contrary to the teachings of Jesus Christ. Both parties are destroying the character of America. We cannot continue to allow our representatives to sink to the level of giving an excuse when it comes to the basic standards of honesty and integrity. Both parties are serving their own interests. Neither party cares one bit about the welfare of the American people. Both parties are using the myth of Osama bin Laden to justify a trillion dollar war. Both parties are obsessed with the next election instead of the present of running the country. How to build an Android wear watch - mithunmanohar ===== tommi If you want to know how to build a wearable then it's possible by connecting Android Wear (for the hardware and apps, free to install) with an Android phone via Bluetooth. So one side is Google while the other is pretty much any other phone; even Windows phone, Blackberry or iPhone. The best part is that there's no need for build/design skills for the project. ---- jnsyr I would not say that it's "possible". You need a license from all vendors of smartwatches so that you can make them available for your proprietary operating system. Samsung is one of the only companies so far that does not require you to sign a license. They've promised to ship their watches without running a platform though. ----- lewisflude You can build an Android Wear watch, it's just not officially supported yet by Google. You can find lots of project source code online.

Introduction: Many of the features that I use regularly can be found and then built by searching the forum or the Wiki. While I like to write in-depth guides, I find that a lot of people prefer to read guides, so I've taken the liberty to summarize and combine a lot of information into this blog. While I want to make it as easy as possible to learn the program, I've kept some of the more advanced things a bit out of reach. If you are completely new to photography, this guide will be helpful.
