Q: How to turn a string of space separated values into an array or string in javascript Let's assume I have a string like "10 12 14 16", how could I turn it into an array or string like ["10","12","14","16"] or ["10 12 14 16"]? A: var str = "10 12 14 16"; var arr = str.split(' ');

As an example: Increased risk of restenosis after carotid endarterectomy at the carotid bifurcation. Restenosis after carotid endarterectomy (CEA) remains a significant problem. In this study, we evaluate the incidence and risk factors of restenosis at the carotid bifurcation. We reviewed and analyzed the records of 297 patients (mean age, 64 years) who underwent CEA between January 1992 and October 1999. Patients were selected for preoperative carotid duplex scanning. Endarterectomy involved the internal carotid artery (ICA) in 196 patients and the common carotid artery (CCA) in 101. No patients were treated with perioperative intracranial stenting. The rate of restenosis and surgical reintervention was noted. Restenosis was defined as 50% or more diameter narrowing at the carotid bifurcation. The overall restenosis rate was 18%, with half of the patients progressing to in-stent stenosis. The rate of restenosis was significantly higher in patients with previous carotid stenting (29% vs. 12%,  $p = 0.008$ ) and in patients treated with other procedures (23% vs. 11%,  $p = 0.037$ ). There was a trend toward a higher rate of rest

Keyfant Offline Password Manager is a powerful and easy to use password manager that you can use even when you are offline. Keyfant Offline Password Manager Screenshot: Keyfant Offline Password Manager Download Link: Visit Keyfant homepage Download: Keyfant Pro Why not use an online password manager? Making a decision on which online password manager you should use is easy. Basically, there are two basic options: a web-based password manager, which is basically a simple piece of software residing on some kind of server and accessed by you through a web browser, and an app, which is basically a native app for your phone and usually also available as a web app on your computer. Advantages of web-based password managers: They are secure They are always there for you to access Safeguard you from password leaks They are free Disadvantages of web-based password managers: They are accessible by many people Don't store your passwords offline There is no offline access to your information Advantages of app-based password managers: You can access them offline Offering great features Disadvantages of app-based password managers: They are not as secure as a web-based password manager Only accessible through your desktop and phone Don't offer the best security Web-based password managers are great because they are always there for you to access. There's no need to download anything, no need to register an account, no need to even open a browser. They are simple and work. Since you have to launch an app every time you want to access your password manager, this can be a real security risk, since you don't have the ability to determine how secure an app is. These web-based password managers are free (with their own benefits and drawbacks, of course). If you want to be safe, you're going to have to pay some amount of money. Any password manager will store your passwords for you, so you won't have to memorize them. At least a web-based password manager will store your passwords in their own key-value store (normally called a database), and this means that all your passwords will be on one server, so there's always a chance of someone stealing data. The benefit is that you can access your passwords from any device,
