The lack of knowledge on important cardiovascular problems and their prevention has become a recognized medical problem. An excessive interest in the practice of medicine has hindered the understanding of the importance of basic sciences. A better understanding of the basic sciences is an essential requirement for a fruitful practice of medicine. The objective of this study was to analyze the cardiovascular basic sciences knowledge of the medical residents in order to evaluate the degree of training in this area. All medical residents from a training program and a training hospital who fulfilled the prerequisites for selection participated in the study. Each participant answered a questionnaire in order to obtain information about their knowledge of cardiovascular pathology and basic sciences. The testing group consisted of residents in the training programs of the second year of their undergraduate course. The control group comprised residents in the internal medicine department of the hospital who had less than 2 years of residency. There were 126 subjects in the testing group (40 men and 90 women), with a mean age of 29 years. The control group consisted of 163 subjects (44 men and 119 women), with a mean age of 30 years. The results of the test showed a statistically significant increase in knowledge in the testing group compared with the control group (p The present invention relates to a method of treating drinking water, and more particularly, to a method of treating drinking water, whereby impurities which are harmful to human bodies are removed by contacting the impurities with heated activated carbon. This is for creating the cube I want to look at. I want the top face to be 12 and the bottom face to be 2. So as you can see in the image on the left, I have the side 3, top 2, and bottom 2. (and yes this top image is copied and pasted from the blender help. It's a map of the viewport.) I'm not sure how to properly construct the mesh for the cube with this approach. Is there a better way to build this mesh? If so how can it be done? I don't want anything added to the cube other than one material. As an example I created a cube with 1.24 view settings. The cube renders and appears flat. How do I get this cube to have a top face 12 and a bottom face 2? A: I see your Viewport has Z axis copied to Top view. You can get 2 opposite faces by switching the Y and Z axis. Then you can use Slices for depth: Or you can use Properties panel > Mesh > Solidify and then select front face to make it the top one: fileFormatVersion: 2 guid: fe1c6b59b8fb228a9a03dfa63158d07 timeCreated: 1471218271 licenseType: Pro TextureImporter: fileIDToRecycleName: {} serializedVersion: 2 mipmaps: mipMapMode: 0 enableMipMap: 0 linearTexture: 0 correctGamma: 0 fadeOut: 0 borderMipMap: 0 mipMapFadeDistanceStart bc9d6dd6daa

What's new:

- FIFA 22 introduces “HyperMotion Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay. This brings a more immersive simulation experience.
- FIFA 22 introduces “Real Player Motion”, a brand new camera system that uses up to 100 cameras to track and measure every player in real time.
- A new ball physics engine will make it feel even more weighty and control after an authentic, in-depth setup of the actual movement of the ball in relation to the ground, players, goal posts and player's skills.
- New Player Intelligence System will make players more unpredictable and provide more tactics to use.
- The new play style from the ball physics engine and player intelligence system were combined to create an accurate new dribbling experience. For the first time ever, players will be able to pull off manoeuvres and tricks before dribbling into space to score, even in tight spaces.
