This tutorial will teach you how to create an awesome photo album with the freebie Photoshop practice files included. Step 1 Open Photoshop and open the practice file Album of Siblings. Step 2 Select the Background layer of the document and click in the Layers palette to see the settings for the background. Step 3 Make sure to check the scale box and scale the background down to 500px by 500px. Step 4 Now we will create an object called the Baby. Click in the Layers palette on the Baby layer to enter into editing mode. The Baby layer will now be on top of the Background layer. Step 5 Click the Rectangle tool and create a shape that is exactly the same shape as the baby. Position it in the center, below the Background layer. Step 6 Click the Move tool and move the rectangle to the right of the baby. Step 7 The baby will now be "on top" of the rectangle. Step 8 Create a shape that is black and is the same size as the baby. Step 9 Position this black shape on top of the baby and within the rectangle so that the baby is "cut out" of the rectangle. Step 10 Click the Rectangle tool again and resize the shape to the bottom right corner of the rectangle. This will cut the rectangle out of the black shape. Step 11 Now select the Baby layer, and change the Blend mode to Screen. Step 12 Open the Control panel on the top toolbar. Click the Adjustment brush, click the Blur tool and apply a 16px Gaussian Blur. Step 13 Use the Type tool and make the text Baby inside of the rectangle. Step 14 Now that the rectangle is blurred, it should blend better with the black color. Click the Adjustment brush again, and click in the foreground. Then click the Foreground and Background colors and pick black as the background color. Step 15 Now it's time to animate the image and create some motion. Step 16 Select the Baby layer and change the Blend mode to Motion. Set the Speed to 24 and the Delay to 150 frames. Step 17 Select the Lasso tool and click in the top left corner of the rectangle to make a lasso selection of the Baby.

My thoughts and experiences as a wife, mother, and military wife. I am in love with my husband and our crazy life! Wednesday, June 25, 2009 Taco Smothers and Sleep Overs This is yet another picture of my sweet little monkeys that I can not say no to. I got them right before Christmas on Christmas Eve. They are absolutely precious, and as you can tell by my post. We are sleep deprived. So we have had to find ways to have a little bit of fun in our rough week. I think I found a gem, and I'm going to share it with you now. I found the red hair dye out in my bathroom cabinet. I was about to start using it, but then I thought, why not use it on the monkeys? I was about to take out a little bit, but I didn't, I just squirted a little on the end of their hair. All i got was some hair dye on my palms, and a little stain on my feet. I got her little shirt off too, and used a diaper to tie her and Nate's hair together. I washed their hair in the bathtub, and while they were sleeping I got to work. The monkeys have never looked so cute! It definitely brightens up my day.More Views Details

Q: How do I add a new variable in an iterative code I have written an iterative nested for loop code (part of a larger loop that returns a list of sum's) that works well. But I need to add a new variable (that is not necessarily used in each sum) for each iteration of the inner loop. How can I do this? For example, my code is like the following: `intCount=0; for(int i = 0; i`
